

The Key to Increasing Learning Performance - Psychological Safety

Presented by: Molly Mackey, LEAdERNship Institute

Research shows that psychological safety is key to team performance. So how do you as a trainer use the same principles to create increase learning performance? Join this session to find out. You will walk away with vital tools to create effective learning environments that boost engagement and learning retention.

Objectives

- Understand why psychological safety is needed for learning
- Practice tools to increase psychological safety in a learning environment
- Display understanding through personalized plan to implement tools

